

Introducing Brain Wafers for On-The-Go Energy!

What Are Brain Wafers?

Brain Wafers are a nutritional supplement in the form of an oral lozenge. They are designed to help increase two excitatory neurotransmitters (acetylcholine and dopamine) for more brain and body energy. Brain Wafers also support mood and memory.

What's Special About Brain Wafers?

ORAL ABSORPTION

Brain Wafers use the benefits of oral absorption. In wafer form (lozenge), the main advantage is greater duration of active ingredients in the mouth. Oral absorption allows nutrients to enter blood circulation directly. This results in increased absorption and quicker effects by reducing loss from the liver inactivating them.

CONVENIENCE

Brain Wafers come in single-serve pouches. The pouch is a 2.5" square, and can be stored anywhere. Truly On-The-Go Energy for Brain & Body.

Who Benefits From Using Brain Wafers?

YOUNGER

You sometimes overexert mentally or physically, and need an occasional energy boost. Take a Brain Wafer as needed.

OLDER

You need memory support and may benefit from the regular use of Brain Wafers. Take 1 or 2 wafers at the start of the day and an additional one later in the day.

EVERYBODY?

Well, pretty much. Anyone who needs more energy and alertness. The convenient pouches are handy whenever you need a natural boost of energy.

How Should Brain Wafers Be Taken?

SLOWLY

Dissolve 1 wafer in the front of your mouth. The longer it stays there, the greater the effect. So, please don't chew the wafer. In addition, it's better to take Brain Wafers on an empty stomach.

TIMING

Timing is important. Take a Brain Wafer when your energy level is low, or you are lacking in motivation to complete an important task or start your exercise routine.

OBSERVE

Some people may not notice anything dramatic, but when they look back hours after taking a Brain Wafer, they may find that they were able to perform better.

Backed by Science

NEURONAL ACTIVITY

Excitatory neurotransmitters, such as acetylcholine and dopamine, are natural brain chemicals that transmit nerve impulses to nerves and organs.

Acetylcholine plays a role in awareness and arousal, and also works to activate muscles. It allows you to learn and remember, and to regulate your attention and mood.

Dopamine positively affects attention, behavior and cognition, learning, memory, mood, movement and pleasure reward.

Brain Wafers contain safe and natural ingredients that can increase these brain-activating neurotransmitters. These ingredients include L-tyrosine, acetyl-L-carnitine, citicoline (a special form of choline), huperzine A (from Chinese club moss), B-vitamins, and vitamin C.

Comments From Our Customers

GRADUATION READY!

"I had my university graduation ceremony this past week and had to wake up at 6 AM! I haven't woken up this early in months and did not think I would survive the day. When I woke up, I had a Brain Wafer to give myself a little boost. It wasn't long until I was energized and getting ready for graduation. I was even ready early and I don't know if it would have been possible without Brain Wafers!" —Sydney

CLEAR AND FOCUSED.

"I'm happy to have been introduced to Brain Wafers because I felt I was able to calmly stay focused on work tasks while working from home. Compared to drinking coffee (which I used to do), I felt that Brain Wafers kept me focused and energized, but not too energized like I would be with coffee where I would find myself bouncing back and forth between work and personal things rather than focusing on completing one task at a time. I feel much more balanced because of it." —Ollie

JUST WHAT A WORKING MOM NEEDS!

"Brain Wafers really help me get through my busy days with a toddler and working. I hate relying on coffee for a caffeine buzz and now I no longer have to. These natural brain vitamins allow me to focus better and boost my energy when I need it the most, and they taste good too! I highly recommend this product to all the moms out there!" —Noelle

GREAT ALTERNATIVE TO CAFFEINE AND ENERGY DRINKS.

"Love this. I was looking for an alternative to those days when you're in need of caffeine, and not a lot of things worked that didn't cause jitters or would keep me awake longer than I'd like. This helped my focus and energy, but in a really subtle way. Didn't notice it was working until I realized how much I was able to do and the level of attention I was able to give during meetings." —Leah
